YEAR 3 WEEKLY LEARNING

This week

English

In English, the children have really enjoyed exploring our new book, The Heart and the Bottle by Oliver Jeffers. They have been focusing on using inverted commas correctly when writing speech. The children looked closely at details from the story and created sentences describing what the main character enjoyed doing with her grandpa. They then had lots of fun bursting bubbles and reporting the speech they found inside, using inverted commas to write down what each character said.

PE

This week, the children continued to develop their gymnastics skills. Using the skills they have gained over the last few weeks, they worked on creating and performing short sequences that combined different movements. They practised balancing, rolling, jumping, travelling and changing direction, while focusing on control, coordination and body tension. The children also developed their flexibility, strength and spatial awareness, learning how to move safely and confidently and link movements together smoothly.
