Happy Friday!

I trust you all enjoyed a half-term full of rest. The children have returned to school and have settled back in well this week.

We have started reading our new text for English – Odd and the Frost Giants. This week, children created noun phrases featuring adjectives and prepositions.

We finished our addition and subtraction unit this week and children completed their end of unit assessment. Next week, we move to measurement with a focus on 'area'.

We were able to get out in the fresh air for PE this week as we started our unit - Tag Rugby. This week, children learnt how to correctly hold/throw the rugby ball.

Computing this term is audio production. This week, children used a free, online platform called Audacity to record and playback their voices.

We are learning about sound in science this term. Children learnt that sounds are made when objects vibrate, which causes the air around the object to vibrate. These air vibrations then travel to our ears and we hear these as sound.

In French this term children will be learning the names of clothing and understanding whether they are masculine or feminine noun forms.

As part of our learning around Remembrance Sunday, children created black-out poems and made their own poppies.
Have a lovely weekend, Miss Hale
