YEAR 3 WEEKLY LEARNING

This week

Geography

In Geography, the children explored their local environment and how it has changed over time. They shared thoughtful examples of changes they have noticed in Addlestone, such as new houses being built on green spaces, trees being cut down, and shops opening or closing. We then looked at historical maps of Addlestone from 1890, 1950 and 2024, comparing how the area has developed over the years. The children enjoyed identifying differences between the maps and discussing how our local environment has changed, helping them to understand how places evolve over time.

Maths

In Maths, the children continued to develop their confidence in column addition with exchanges across tens and hundreds. They practised setting out their calculations carefully and remembering to begin with the ones column, working from right to left. After adding each column, the children learned to check whether an exchange was needed and to record it correctly in the next column. They continued practising this important skill, focusing on remembering to place the exchanged digit in the correct column and include it when adding the next set of numbers. Through regular practice, the children are becoming more confident and accurate in using this written method to solve addition calculations.
