We were very successful at recognizing the past perfect tense. We learned how to use brackets as an authorial aside within a story. We thought about character feelings and how they can be shown in our writing. Finally, we considered the structure of a story and began to think about our own traditional story.

| We have considered why India |

| was considered the 'Jewel In The |
| Crown' and what life was like for |
| Indians living under British rule. |
| We then tried to make a |
| statement, based on evidence, |
| about whether the empire was a |
| 'good' or 'bad' thing. |

We developed our searching skills by answering questions involving more than one field of data. We had to be very logical and use 'AND' and 'OR' to refine our searches.

I hope everyone had an informative and enjoyable experience. It was great to see adults working with children often learning together. We practised reading and comprehension, solved maths problems and had an excellent discussion about 'banter'.

Next Week -

In our final, shortened week before Easter, we will be finishing our short unit on Statistics in maths. We will be writing our own traditional stories in English. We will be learning about what happened to the British Empire as well as continuing to sew our bags. As part of science we will also
