

Year 2 Learning Letter

Issue 11

Ongar Place School, Addlestone, Surrey O1932 842785

Friday 6th December 2024

Just like that we are in December. Christmas is approaching quickly. This week our timetable has been all over the place. With the rocksteady concert, nativity practise and the Christmas shopping event, our learning has felt a little bit more bitty than usual. The children have adapted well to the changes in our routine but I have definitely noticed that emotions are running high, our accident book has been fuller than ever (I think Oscar Allen has a book of his own!) and children are buzzing with excitement. This week I have decided not to set any formal homework. This is a good time of year for festive outings, baking or movie nights. Take advantage of extra time to take a breather and enjoy some family time. If you wish to continue learning at home you can always use time table Rockstars, Practise handwriting or addition and subtraction of 2 two-digit numbers.

Computing- photography

I have been delighted with the entries to the photography competition. We are still waiting for a few more children to enter their photos. I will give you until Tuesday to enter your photos. Any children that have not taken a photo at home will be giving the opportunity in school to take one.

I would like to take the time to invite you all in to the classroom on Tuesday after school to view our gallery. If you are unable to make Tuesday and would like to come in on another day please let me know - you are always welcome.

We will be asking the children in the upper school to come and vote for their favourite photo. I will keep you updated on the winner.

Rocksteady Concert

What a fantastic Rocksteady concert yesterday! I was so impressed with the number of year 2 children who played an instrument or sang in front of the whole school and parents.

What a fantastic achievement- well done all!
