Focus Learning

This term, the children are focusing on their painting skills in Art. They have started by identifying primary and secondary colours on a colour wheel. They are able to describe how to mix two different colours together to create another. Secondly, they have acknowledged that adding white and black paint to colours can change the mood and shade.

Last week, we all assessed our client's food diaries in Science. In our groups we identified how many teaspoons of sugar they were eating in a day, compared to the recommended intake. Year 3 then had the tricky task of putting all that data into a bar graph and I must say, they all did really well. As a result, they discussed what their client needed to do to improve their diet; created an Eatwell Plate for them and a poster showing a balanced and unbalanced diet. We have been VERY busy!

Harvey is demonstrating how to focus and identify personal breathing patterns in Yoga.
