

YEAR 3 WEEKLY LEARNING

Autumn Term

PSHE

The children learned about bullying and explored how it is different from simply being unkind to others. Through a lively class discussion, they shared examples and ideas about what makes bullying hurtful and why it is important to stand up for others. The children then worked together to create colourful anti-bullying posters, spreading messages of kindness, respect, and inclusion, which they proudly shared with the class.

Writing

This week, the children have written a diary entry in the character of the little girl from The Heart and the Bottle. They used the present perfect tense to describe her thoughts and feelings since she lost her grandpa. The children wrote about how she has felt lonely, has kept her heart safe inside the bottle, and has discovered that protecting her heart has also stopped her from feeling joy. They reflected on how she has realised that opening her heart again helps her to feel love and curiosity once more.
