Continuing the Learning Journey!

It is hard to believe that we have completed a half term already! After the break the children will be reading in small groups. Each Friday they will bring the book home to read with you. They will have a yellow reading record for you to fill in and comment about how they are doing. Please follow the link for more information about reading with your child and how it is taught.

This week's learning:

- In maths the children have been recreating repeating patterns and identifying different patterns in and around our classroom.
- I read the book 'Funny Bones' and the children chalk sketched skeleton pictures. They look very spooky on black card!
- Today the children enjoyed the PTFA Halloween mufti!

Next Week...

Is half term!

We have sent a book home to share with your child. This is not their reading book but a book that they can listen to you read and enjoy. We will change these weekly.
