Happy Friday everyone!

We kick started the week with a mini football tournament, which the children really enjoyed, despite the wet weather! The visiting coach commended Y4 for their teamwork and fair play across the morning. I hope they all enjoyed it!

Tuesday saw us all take part in a live history lesson as part of Remembrance Day. Hosted by children's story-teller Mr Dilley (who brings history to life for children) we heard from children's author Tom Palmer and reflected on why it is so important to take time to remember those lost in wars.

In English, we used our character descriptions to bring our words to life and create characters from Odd and the Frost Giants.

We have started a new maths unit on multiplication and division this week with a focus on the three and six times tables.

In computing, children worked in pairs and used Audacity to record their voices, learning how to edit and move their recordings.

In history, we learned about the many features of the Viking long-ship and how these made it the perfect ship for their sea-faring ways.

In tag-rugby this week, children learnt how to 'tag' as a defensive skill. They worked in pairs and then small groups, practicing in both the attacking and defending role.

Wishing you all a lovely weekend,
Miss Hale
