Continuing the Learning Journey!

When it snowed on Wednesday we went outside to feel and catch the snowflakes! It was cold but absolutely wonderful to see how excited the children were.

This week's learning:

- In maths the children have been identifying 2D shapes and discussing how many sides/corners they have. The children then created pictures using triangles and circles.
- In Little Wandle the children have been learning the tricky words 'to' and 'into'. The children are starting to initiate their own writing and using their newly learnt phonics to help.
- In Art the children collected natural objects from the forest school area and used them to paint with, the results were very effective and they even painted with mud!

Next Week...

In PSHE we will be role-playing (with puppets) and modelling how friends share fairly.
