

Highlights of the Fortnight

Obviously, Sayers Croft last week was an incredible highlight. I haven't included any photos here but I am sure there will be plenty on the website in due course. Mr Brill, Miss Knott and myself each had a camera so I am in the process of sorting through over 550 photos from the 3 days! I understand that those who stayed behind had an equally memorable few days with a variety of cooking, art and forest school activities so it has been a lovely way to draw a long term to a close. Back in school this week, we have completed our Francis stories and written a recount of the events of last week.

In Maths, we have worked on Measures focusing mainly on converting between Metric units of measurement for Length, Capacity and Mass but next week we will also be looking at Imperial measurements.

They have all told me they know the difference between a tsp and a tbsp due to doing lots of cooking so I hope they will indeed be helpful over the Christmas Holidays!

This is to be the last Learning Letter of the term so can I please take this opportunity to thank you all for the ongoing support and encouragement you give to your children. It has been a wonderful term and I hope everyone has a lovely couple of weeks off school.

Science

We have been covering a unit of work on Light over the course of the last few weeks. This has involved recapping learning from previous years as well as progressing to learn more about how the eye works, and how light can be reflected and how, when refracted, it can create a colour spectrum (rainbow). We had great fun this week with torches, prisms and coloured filters to find these things out for ourselves.

HOMework

READING! Every night for 30 minutes if possible please.

Having read Holes this term, I am hoping to show the film next week. If anyone has any concerns about this please contact me.
