

YEAR 6 LEARNING NEWS

Highlights of the Week

Rehearsals

It's really starting to come together! This week we have spent a fair bit of time rehearsing and we've seen costumes, used props and learnt dances. There are still a few lines to perfect, the scene changes to practice (without talking!) and some dances to co-ordinate, but it really feels like we're getting there. Thank you so much to everyone at home who has assisted with costumes/ learning lines / heard the songs being practiced what must feel like a thousand times! If you haven't yet put your order in for tickets then please do so next week. We have had a tough time choosing the winning ticket designs but I hope when you see them you really will be impressed - 4 different designs have been chosen overall - 2 for each night.

English

We have started our final text of the year - The Final Year. This is written in a very different style and using enjambment for effect and the content has also promoted a lot of discussion as the main character is having, what most of us would call, a difficult childhood. On Tuesday we did some writing linked to the text and I read out a couple of pieces which I felt were truly outstanding considering the short period of time in which they had had to write.

Maths

We are trying to maintain some of the key knowledge we have spent all year working on, but we've also had fun with different challenges. This week involved creating patterns with some very creative responses.

PSHE and RSE

Over the next 4 weeks, we will continue to do lots of work related to Transition. We will also be completing our Relationship and Sex Education lessons which links to both the Science and PSHE curriculum. If you want to see any of the resources or discuss this with me then I will be available in my classroom next Wednesday, 24th June 3:30-4pm.

Homework

READING! Every child should be reading for 30 minutes every day. This is more important than ever as we aren't always managing this in class. We still have a large number of children who would benefit from reading aloud to an adult daily and having regular discussions checking understanding of vocabulary - both words and sayings we take for granted as a lot of pupils are still very literal in their understanding. Maths and SPAG homework is also being set.
