Learning Journey

In English this week we read the book 'How to be a Dog'. We used the structure and language in the book to help us create our own booklets about how to be different animals.

In Maths we have been exploring capacity and volume. We learnt what these words mean and practised measuring capacity by pouring water into lots of different containers.

In PE we have been devising a dance sequence about pirates. We learnt some moves all together and then added some of our own ideas before performing the dance to each other.

Star Learner

Well done to Nectarios for creating a beautifully presented booklet all about parrots.

We went on a walk around the school grounds to look for signs of Spring this week. Here are a few that we found:
